"Night Must Fall" Studio Theatre's Presentation, Proves Successful

By SALLY POST

"Night Must Fall" by Emyln Williams, presented by the Studio Theatre under the direction of Ted Smalley, proved to be a successful venture. The show told of one murder and led up to the committing of another. Full of chills and suspense, the play afforded the audience with an entertaining and scary evening.

Leading the list of good performances was Patty Lou Lloyd, who did an excellent job as Mrs. Bramson. She carried her part through with ability and a well developed characterization.

Together for the second time and again giving fine performances were: Fred Olson as Dan, and Joan Keagy as Olivia. Both characters were skillfully done; it was interesting to watch the progress of the show through these growing performances.

Joan Ellingson, as the maid Dora, was delightful and appealing. She seemed quite at ease and it was interesting to watch her reactions to events on stage. Mary Heath, as the housekeeper, had a nucleus for a good character but spoiled it at times with her too loud voice and an accent that was obviously false.

Rogar Good, Inspector Belsize, seemed to be the only member of the cast who was able to sound convincing as a Britisher. His manner on stage was at times, however, too casual and part of the character was lost. Kevin McCray's stereotyped character seemed a cross between the butler in "Ring Round the Moon" and Kevin himself. Joyce Blatnic's few appearances on stage were explosive and good for a laugh.

The show as a whole was quite well done and very entertaining. There were many fine moments during the show but the staged vignettes as the curtain closed seemed too unnatural. "Night Must Fall" lived up to the high standards that have been set by the past successful Studio shows.

Rockwell Hunt Honored By C. of C. Banquet

Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt was honored on his eighty-sixth birthday with a dinner sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and attended by one hundred friends.

Contributing speakers were Phillip C. Wilkins, president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and Leslye Hicks, president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. Joseph R. Knowland, president of the California Historical Society and publisher of the Oakland Tribune, presided over the dinner held at the Stockton Hotel.

Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt is a famed historian, author, and educator. He wrote, "History of the College of the Pacific, 1851-1951," in commemoration of its one-hundredth anniversary. Dr. Rockwell is former Dean of the Graduate School of the University of Southern California. In 1947 he became Director of the California History Foundation at the College of Pacific, his Alma Mater.

The extensive list of books he has written includes: John Bidwell, Prince of California Pioneers; California: An American Commonwealth; The Genesis of California's First Constitution, 1846-49; California Ghost Towns Live Again; and A Short History of California.

Honor System Probed At Pacific; Results To Be Reported

Student Affairs Commissioner Dale Clipper recently appointed a committee from his student affairs commission to look into the effectiveness of an honor system at the College of the Pacific.

The Committee Members Don Buchman, Chairman, Barbara Ratto, Coralita Carlson and Larry Allin, were charged with the responsibility of meeting with the faculty, interviewing students, and examining classroom situations at Pacific to determine to what extent an honor system is complied with by both faculty and students and to suggest improvements in its structure.

The Committee will then report to the entire Student Affairs Commission its findings on several propositions:

1. Who should be responsible for the formulating and administration of, and decisions concerning The College of the Pacific Honor system.

2. What can the individual professor and the faculty as a whole do to make an Honor System a working thing.

3. What can the individual student and Student Body organizations do to make an Honor System a useful item in the scheme of higher education at Pacific.

The Student Affairs Commission has dealt with the only reported infraction of testing procedures this academic year. The decision concerning cheating on an examination by a student was that the student receive an F grade in the course and be placed on "Honor Probation" to be dismissed from the college if a recurrence of cheating took place.

The Honor System has as its purpose the promotion of a better scholastic atmosphere and is not designed as a policing measure.

Psalm Service Given For Tuesday Chapel

The chapel service on February 23, will be a service in the Psalms. The A Cappella Choir under the direction of Prof. J. Russell Bodley will sing a selection from Bach. Marilyn Myers will play a violin solo, and there will be a verse quartet lead by Prof. Granville Bayse.

There will be no main speaker for the service.

Tri-Beta Offers Sem. Schedule

At the last meeting of the Pacific chapter of the biological sciences fraternity, Beta Beta Beta, a tentative program was scheduled for the remainder of this semester.

A few of the highlights of this semester's Tri-Beta activities include the Spring initiation of new members, and a field trip which are to be held in March.

In April the group will have the opportunity of listening to a speaker on narcotics; also scheduled for April is the election of new officers. May will see the Annual Banquet, and during that same month the group will hear a speaker on medicine.

Ed Chin, president of Tri-Beta, and Gil White, vice president, have been very successful in scheduling an active program for those interested in the biological sciences.

All students interested in becoming members of Tri Beta are invited to do so, providing they are at least in their sophomore year and have completed 4 or more units in the biological sciences. Students desiring membership in Tri-Beta must also have a 1.5 accumulative grade point average or better. Contact may be made with Dean Bertholf, the adviser of the group.

The Pacific chapter meets once monthly in Room 216, Weber Hall, and has as its faculty adviser, Dean Lloyd Bertholf. The next meeting of Tri-Beta is scheduled for Monday evening, March 15, at 7:30 p.m. in Dean Bertholf's home.

NEW COMMITTEE FORMED BY AWS

The A.W.S. has formed a new committee, under the chairmanship of Betty Jo Peterson. This committee is working on a syllabus of rules for women's living groups. ## PSA "Town Meeting" Reports COP Activities

The PSA Senate held a "town meeting" before the student body faculty of the College of the Pacific and reported the activities of the fall semester in a President's Convocation on February 11.

Reports were heard from President Phil Wogaman, Rally Chairman Jim Taylor, Student Affairs Commissioner Dale Clipper, Communications Commissioner Jack Francis, Social Commissioner Bob Young and Vice-President Norm Harris.

One surprising note was the presentation of the plans for the building of the proposed Student Union on the College of the Pacific campus. Norm Harris reported that negotiations are under way for the financing of the new building and showed the gathering plans for the structure.

The junior class requested $300 additional allotment from the PSA to help finance the junior senior ball. After some discussion the request was granted tentatively. However, this appropriation can not be made definite until it has been discussed in the PSA Senate Finance Committee according to the regulations of the constitution.

The need for more social affairs where all students on the campus can mix informally was introduced for discussion in the meeting; so was the discussion of an effective honor system at Pacific. The commissioners under whose jurisdiction these problems fall are taking them into consideration.

Because of the shortage of time the San Jose-College of the Pacific "Peace Pact" was not voted upon at the convocation. However, it was approved at the senate meeting held February 15.

Tuttle, Bev Correa, Marilyn Tough, Ruth Dow, Connie Bacon and Yvonne Yearian.

The first meeting is scheduled for February 24.

June Hook In Concert Recital

A concert recital will be given next Tuesday evening by June Hook, Pacific graduate student, at 8:15 p.m. in the Conservatory. The lyric soprano's program will consist of works by Mozart, Schubert, Massenet, Ravel and Debussy.

The accompanist for the recital, will be Edward Shadbolt, at the piano.

PROGRAM

Four Schubert songs ..... Auf dem Wasser, Der uengling, Der Schmetterling, Der Hirt.

INTERMISSION

The early Mozart composition was originally written for castrato, or male soprano, and has, in recent years, become a favorite for lyric and coloratura soprano. The Schubert leides are the philosophical mood and impressionism.

The scene from the opera, Manon, and the French group of songs are all of similarly impressionistic classification, while the American compositions are, in the main, contemporary writings.

A graduate music student, June Hook, has successfully appeared in a number of operatic and oratorio works, as well as recitals. At present studying voice with Earl Oliver, she plans to receive the degree of Master of Music in June. In the spring, June Hook will appear as soloist in Brahms' "Ein Deutsche Requiem" with the Oratorio Chorus.

Several appointments were made by the Off-Campus Committee of the Pacific Student Association at the Thursday meeting held February 4.

Rusty Staub was appointed as a representative from this group to the Associated Women Students. Appointed to the Women's Recreation Association to help plan the Fun Night is Saburo Oshita. A coordinating committee was appointed which met later and decided upon a publicity committee.

Discussed at the Thursday meeting was the possibility of the group entering a number in Band Frolic. It was decided to have another meeting including all off-campus students. This meeting was held yesterday.

Last Tuesday a news letter and an agenda for yesterday's meeting were sent to the off-campus

Five Teachers Offer Suggestions To CSTA

The spring program for CSTA got off to a fine start Monday evening with a discussion on the topic "From Here to — Where?"

A panel of five teachers from various communities offered suggestions of what factors a new teacher should consider about a school system before "signing on the dotted line."

Panel members were: Ray Cencirulo, vice-principal of Victory School, who acted as moderator; Marian Sharp, music teacher at Edison High; Hal Eaton, teacher at Escalon High; Ted Bariak, principal of Live Oak school; Melvin Keller, vice-principal of Lincoln School.

Mills College will be the site of the Northern Regional Conference of the California Student Teachers Association on March 6. From this convention students will see CSTA's purpose beyond the local level.

For teacher candidates of 1954 a special opportunity for annual practice interviews will take place on March 8. These interviews will give the prospective teachers a chance to see what they will be up against when applying for a job. All those students interested in signing up for interviews may get in touch with George Boyco.

The main effort of the month will be the renewed membership drive. "In order for the program of any organization to function, there must be a strong membership to support it, both financially and actively."

"If you are a future teacher, no matter what the phase of education, be sure to see the representative in your education class or call Carol Goodwin, South Hall," stated Marilyn Moore, president.

students. The publicity committee, under the leadership of Rudy Sun, chairman, will send out this newsletter. Later a list of the off-campus students, their addresses and their telephone number will be compiled by this committee. This committee will also keep the off-campus students notified of future campus events.

Valentines Prevail In Archania Tea

Of special interest at Archania's Silver Tea Sunday were two paintings by Bob Coon. These pictures, which depict two of Pacific's annual events, Mardi Gras and Band Frolic, are done in an original technique composed of various media and accented with cooper wire which gives the pictures a three-dimensional effect.

A Valentine motif prevailed in the decorations at the event. Mobiles of white wire and red carnations and a cascade of red carnations on the tea table carried out the theme.

The tea was sponsored by the Mothers' Club. Mrs. Anderson was chairman of the event, and her committee members were: Mrs. Fialer, Mrs. Hammersmith, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Hines. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Knoles, Mrs. Jackson, and Miss Davis.

Mural Casabateers Clash For Titles

The Intramural basketball season is rapidly drawing to a close this week, as winners of the National and American Leagues should be determined after this week's play.

In the American League, there is a three way tie for first place, with Rhizomia, Phi Epsilon Kappa, and Omega Phi. Thursday night the Rhizites met the Athletic Fraternity with the winner meeting Omega Phi for the championship.

The National League had a two-way deadlock with the Swedes meeting another Omega Phi squad in a play off for the National League crown on Wednesday afternoon.

The winners of both the American and National Leagues will then playoff for the College of the Pacific Intramural Basketball Trophy sometime next week.

In the Coast League there is still a scramble for top positions, with Quonset A., Stalag J, and Anderson Y leading the parade.

Frosh Hoopsters Win 2 Straight

College of the Pacific's blazing JR. Bengals, after two consecutive league wins, over loop-leader U.S.F. and St. Mary's, have it in their power to bring home the first Frosh Basketball Championship yet seen on the Pacific campus.

Last Friday the Frosh walked all over the, up til then, undefeated U.S.F. Dons 61 to 53. On Monday the Jr. Bengals sent the St. Mary's Gaels home in defeat 58 to 51. John Thomas took scoring honors both nights with 17 and 25 points respectively. Against St. Mary's, Galen Laack, came through with 20.

The Championship hinges on two things, the remaining two games on the Frosh Schedule, the San Jose State and U.S.F. Frosh. If the Frosh can conquer these two hurdles, they're in — if they can't, well — maybe next year.

Tiger's den . . .

By NORM HARRIS

WE HEAR, from quite reliable sources, that a new course in wrestling is being "offered" to deserving Bengal athletes this semester. Might we say, along with many of the wrestlers, that they might just like a few months to relax and catch up on their grades before they enter a period of even more rigorous conditioning . . . after all you can live for one thing PART of the year and still be a champion.

THE PLAY IN THE California Basketball Association has rapidly become a case of "dog eat dog" with only the champion Santa Clara Broncos remaining disdainfully aloof with 7-1 record in league play.

The rest of the league seems to have little regard for any of the other league members' press clippings what with San Jose clipping the highly favored USF Dons last Monday night, and the Gaels from St. Mary's doing the deed to the hot and cold Bengals on the same night. Both the Gaels and the Spartans had been in the cellar before these games.

The cellar dwelling Gaels contrived, in the week previously, to surprise the Santa Clara Broncos with their only league loss of the season while the Spartans found it fit to start a winning streak for themselves several weeks ago on our then second place Bengals. Since that time St. Mary's has, with the help of the USF Dons, contrived to bring the hapless Bengals into a three-way cellar tie with themselves and the San Jose Staters.

We only dare to predict one outcome in the whole CBA league and that is that the Santa Clara Broncos, with the best seasonal record on the coast, 17-4, will go on to take their second CBA crown in a row.

In case you're interested, Stockton's new television station, KTVU, has a new sports show, the "Valley Sports Reel" which regularly features COP sporting personalities and events. The show is under the directorship of Ray Golden, local radio, announcer and an athletic "red hot" for the Bengals.

Just last Thursday a telestration of the COP-Santa Clara basketball game was shown with a "live" interview with Coach Van Sweet and Publicity Director Carol Doty.

LASTLY, a great big congratulation to affable Big Ken Buck who recently signed on with the Pro New York Giant football squad for a reported $7,000 plus salary. Big Ken, one of the best ends in collegiate circles last year, should fit in well with the Giants and we expect him to be playing a lot of end for them when they come out to the Coast next August to tangle with the San Francisco 49'ers. Sorry that he couldn't finish the season out with the current Tiger hoopball squad but the Giants were anxious to get his name on the dotted line before Canadian football interests could grasp his "Lily whites" and lead him astray.

Ruggers Defeated By Indians; Both Teams Score On Penalties

The COP rugby season opened on Friday night February 5, with the Pacific ruggers going down to defeat at the hands of the Stanford Indians. When the game ended the Tigers were on the short end of a 6-3 score. Neither team could muster anything resembling an offense as both squads were playing their first game of the season. Each teams scoring was limited to points via penalty kicks.

Pacific's coaches, John Rhode and Willie Richardson, praised the work of Gene Cronin, Don Cornell, Manny Alvarez, Jack Meeks, Buzz Williams, and Lynn Swanson. Swanson converted the Tigers' only score on a penalty kick. These boys showed definite signs of developing into a top flight squad with a little more experience under their belts.

This Saturday afternoon will find the Tigers hosting the San Francisco Olympic Club in a game at Baxter Stadium. The Contest is rated as a toss-up and should prove to be a very interesting game.

GAELS DOWN TIGER QUINTET 74 - 65

Monday evening the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's reversed an earlier season loss to Pacific by downing the Tiger quintet 74-65. The loss dropped the Bengals into a third place tie with St. Mary's and San Jose in CBA competition.

An excellent shooting average and the inspired efforts of "Wheelo" Sanchez and Gil Zaragoza were the deciding factors that enabled the Moragans to decision a not-too-inspired Pacific team. Time and time again it was Sanchez with his superb faking and driving shots that placed the Gaels in the commanding position.

The first period saw St. Mary's quickly jumping into the lead and controlling it until mid-way into the second quarter when Don Buchman planted a twenty-foot shot to put Pacific in front. At this point the game progressed into a see-saw affair with the lead changing hands several times. At halftime the score was knotted at 30-30.

FIRST MEETING TO BE HELD BY AQUATIC CLUB

The Aquatic Club of the College of the Pacific will hold its first meeting of the semester on February 25 at 4:30 p.m. in room 201 of the gym.

This organization is beginning plans for its annual Aquacade which will be held later in the spring. This program includes not only swimmers, but also those people who can help with staging and production.

All students interested in the Aquatic Club, whether or not they are swimmers, are invited to attend the February 25 meeting. Those people desiring further information may contact Werner Gerhke at Archania.

Bengals Host Bulldogs In Benefit Game

The College of the Pacific Tigers will attempt to break a five game losing streak when they host a strong Fresno State Bulldog five tonight at the Civic Auditorium in a benefit game sponsored by the Stockton Casaba Club.

The San Jose State Spartans were the second team this week to hand the Bengals a loss as they came from behind in the second half to outfight the COP squad for a 70-64 conquest.

The Spartans were the seventh team in a row to score a total of 70 points or better against the Tiger ball club.

Since the two-week-old triple overtime victory against the University of San Francisco Dons which placed the Bengals one half game out of first place in the CBA league the Tigers have wound up in the cellar with five successive defeats from San Jose, Santa Clara, USF, St. Mary's, and San Jose again.

The Spartans were paced by Don Fausset, Bud Hjelm, and Carroll Williams who scored 16, 17 and 18 points respectively.

Al Mangin proved to be the only consistent scorer as he garnered 24 points to lead both teams in scoring.

In tonight's contest the Fresnoans will be favored as they have handed San Jose a five-point loss this season.

The San Mateo Bulldogs and the hapless Stockton College

Mustangs will provide the preliminary fireworks tonight as they class in a Big Seven Conference game before the main attraction.

Fifty cents admission will be charged to all PSA cardholders who attend the basketball game with Fresno in the Civic Auditorium tonight. This game is being sponsored by the Casaba Club and the proceeds will be used to further the basketball program at the College of the Pacific.

Letters To The Editor . . .

There has been in the past years, a growing number of C.O.P. students who have chosen to live off-campus. Fine. So what? Here's what! Certain members have recently met to discuss the possibility of being integrated more actively in COP functions. They pay their tuition; they pay their infirmity fee, and they pay their PSA dues; so why shouldn't they enjoy the activities and recognition of the students living on campus?

This question was dropped into the Senate's lap in hopes that a reaction in the form of an answer might come forth. Result? No available stock-pile of answers. But all hope was not yet gone. A meeting of interested off-campus students was proposed, even though not much of a turnout was expected. Well, gather 'round children and become acquainted with some strange goings-on.

This aforementioned meeting was held and almost 5% of the off-campus students were there, quiet, timid, but interested. Some palaver by the big wheels ensued and got things rolling. Then individual comments were added. Boiled down, it amounted to a big job. First, these off-C's decided a definite formal type of organization was needed, complete with constitution, officers, and trimmings. Second, a meeting to further this step was set for Feb. 18 at 11:00 in the Senate chamber. Cards will be sent to those concerned. Candidates for office were thought about at this later meeting as well as a constitution talked about. The first project will have to get under way, namely the entering of an off-C volleyball squad in the W.R.A. sports night fun-fest. Soon to come up is the Band Frolic in which only living groups on campus have thus far participated.

And then there is spring, that wonderful excuse for dancin' and romancin'. These events will give the off-C's a chance for active campus participation. It will take money, talent, work, and initiative. So all of you off-campus students take note: stand in the spotlight; be a part of COP, not only as a name on the registration list, but also as an active participant in COP activities.

RUDY SUN

All of us who were concerned with the management of the Pacific Music Clinic February 6 were tremendously pleased with the whole-hearted and wide spread participation of faculty, staff, and students alike in helping make it such an overwhelming success. It was a tremendously inspiring event, and your help was essential to its good management.

We would thank especially the College administrators and Conservatory faculty, the cafeteria staff, the Pacific Student Association, Blue Key, Knolens, WRA, Spurs, Mu Phi Epsilon, Phi Mu Symphonia, the Pacific Weekly, the maintenance force, and every individual who devoted effort toward the goal of making our guests feel at home and have a profitable day. Even a lot of our visiting instructors were pressed into service as section leaders and other key locations. We have had many fine reports of the hospitality shown by all College of the Pacific student groups and faculty helping with the clinic.

Our own concert Band was especially impressive as it entertained the clinic guests under the able leadership of Mr. Arthur Corra. Many thanks and congratulations to all. We will look forward to another big day when we hold the Fifth Annual Pacific Music Clinic next year February 5, 1955.

School Councils Here March 13

The California Association of Student Councils of District number 10 will be hosted on campus by College of Pacific on Saturday, March 13. This group is composed of the High School student council leaders for the central California area. College of the Pacific is in charge of coordinating the program for the meeting

Pacific Chosen For Academic Experiment

The College of the Pacific has been chosen as one of the thirty colleges in the United States for a special experiment in education for international understanding. Mr. Wilmer J. Kitchen, Executive Secretary of World University Service, came from New York to visit this campus on February 15 and 16 to inform Pacific of the role it is to play in the experiment.

A trained speaker and a former faculty member himself, Mr. Kitchen is equally at home before student and faculty audiences. His extensive knowledge of student needs and conditions abroad, and his experiences as World University Service Director add to his value as a speaker for WUS.

Many student and faculty leaders on the College of the Pacific Campus attended a special dinner meeting with Mr. Kitchen on Monday, February 15, in the upstairs of the Anderson "Y". At this time he explained the "30 centers plan."

Campus "nucleus" groups representing local units of the WUS sponsoring agencies and associated organizations at these thirty centers will undertake evaluation surveys of existing extracurricular activities in international education, as well as projects related to the program interests of WUS.

World University Service in the United States is one of thirty-two WUS national committees working in North America, Western Europe, the Middle East, Africa, South Asia, and the Far East. It sponsors an annual appeal on more than 700 American campuses for funds to "help students help themselves" in needy world areas.

Faculty Retreat Scheduled Sunday

This Sunday the Pacific faculty will journey to Columbia for its two-day retreat.

They will begin by having dinner Sunday at 4 o'clock at the State Park Cafe in Columbia. Dr. Myron Wicke of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church in Nashville, Tennessee, will be the guest speaker. He will speak Sunday afternoon and evening with question and answer periods after each of his talks. Sunday evening everyone will go to the Burns' home in Columbia for refreshments.

The topics of Dr. Wicke's speeches will be: The Development of the Academic Community, and The Responsibilities of the Teacher. Monday morning everyone will divide up into special discussion groups. In the afternoon these groups will talk over what they have discussed and decided upon.

The majority of the faculty will stay at the Sonora Inn, except for a few hearty souls such as Dr. Cobb, Dr. Eiselen, and Dean Betz who have decided to camp in Dr. Burns' backyard.

under the direction of PSA Vice President Norm Harris. Official hosts for the event will be Lodi High School and Edison High School of Stockton.

The program will include a panel-discussion of topics of interest to H. S. Councils. These discussions will be lead by C.O.P. students and visiting leaders.

Two Members To Be Initiated In Knolens

Barbara Ratto and Marilyn Moore have recently been accepted as members into the Knolens, the senior women's honor society. Lee Shoemaker, president of the Knolens, stated that the formal initiation would be held next week in the Morris Chapel. Following the ceremonies, the new members will be treated to a dinner at the House of Murphy.

The members of this honorary society are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, personality, and achievements and activities on campus.

On January 20, the Knolens elected as their officers for the ensuing semester, Lee Shoemaker, president; Georgia Friz, secretary-treasurer; Margie Lagerson, historian; and Louetta Salsa, vice-president. Their president states, "Because the group is so small, I consider myself lucky to have such a good group to work with."
